DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3, 8, 32, 33, 35, 38, 48, and 49 of U.S. Patent No. 6,495,166. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are an obvious combination of the elements patented claims 1-3, 8, 32, 33, 35, 38 and 48 including features of preparing a 1st phase active agent, polymer and solvent, a 2nd phase, an emulsion formation, a combining in a 1st static mixer combining of the outflow (patented claim 1, 33, 38) whereby the outflow is a manifold with parallel flow stream static mixer (patented claim 8), including flow the use of a particular polymer (claim 32) and the microparticles prepared by the process (patented claim 48, 49). Also, note that the outflow to a vessel for final use, and repeating of step until the 1st phase or extraction liquid is depletion are old and well known in the art of fluid processing whereby it is known to outflow to a vessel for storage, and furthermore it has been known to repeat steps in a process until all the materials are depleted to prevent waste and obtain a more efficient use of the starting materials to produce the final product. Absent any such evidence of unexpected results, it is deemed that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine such elements of patented claims, so long as the materials are combined effectively and produce the final particles as desired by the claimed patented invention.
